

General Assembly

Distr.: General
24 October 2013

Original: English

UNEDITED VERSION

Human Rights Council

Working group on the universal periodic review

Seventeenth session

Geneva, 21 October – 1 November 2013

Draft report of the Working Group on the Universal Periodic Review¹

NIGERIA

¹ The final document will be issued under the symbol A/HRC/25/xx. The annex to the present report is circulated as received.

Contents

| | Paragraphs | Page |
|---|-------------------|-------------|
| Introduction | x-x | x |
| I Summary of the proceedings of the review process | x-x | x |
| A. Presentation by the State under review | x-x | x |
| B. Interactive dialogue and responses by the State under review | x-x | x |
| II. Conclusions and/or recommendations..... | x-x | x |
| [III. Voluntary pledges and commitments | x-x | x] |
| Annex | | |
| Composition of the delegation | | x |

Introduction

1. The Working Group on the Universal Periodic Review (UPR), established in accordance with Human Rights Council resolution 5/1 of 18 June 2007, held its seventeenth session from 21 October to 1 November 2013. The review of Nigeria was held at the 4th meeting on the 22 October 2013. The delegation was headed by Mr. Mohammed Bello ADOKE. At its 10th meeting held on 25 October 2013, the Working Group adopted the report on Nigeria.

2. On 14 January 2013, the Human Rights Council selected the following group of rapporteurs (troika) to facilitate the review of Nigeria: Chile, Cote D' Ivoire and Malaysia.

3. In accordance with paragraph 15 of the annex to resolution 5/1 and paragraph 5 of the annex to resolution 16/21, the following documents were issued for the review of Nigeria :

(a) A national report submitted/written presentation made in accordance with paragraph 15 (a) (A/HRC/WG.6/17/NGA/1);

(b) A compilation prepared by OHCHR in accordance with paragraph 15 (b) (A/HRC/WG.6/17/NGA/2);

(c) A summary prepared by OHCHR in accordance with paragraph 15 (c) (A/HRC/WG.6/17/NGA/3).

4. A list of questions prepared in advance by Belgium, Czech Republic, Germany, Liechtenstein, Netherlands, Norway, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and the United States of America was transmitted to Nigeria through the troika. These questions are available on the extranet of the UPR.

I. Summary of the proceedings of the review process

A. Presentation by the State under review

5. The Delegation stated that Nigeria viewed the Universal Periodic Review (UPR) as a mechanism for constructive engagement for the promotion and protection of human rights. In preparation of the national report, the Government of Nigeria constituted an all-inclusive National Committee, made-up of government officials and representatives of civil society and inter alia conducted extensive consultations with relevant stakeholders.

6. The Delegations stated since the first reviewed in 2009, significant developments have been recorded. Nigeria has largely fulfilled its commitments to the Human Rights Council through its active participation in the work and activities of the Council, support for the National Human Rights Commission, commitment to human rights instruments and support for all strategies at regional and international levels to promote and protect human rights.

7. Nigeria has also fulfilled its commitment by amending the National Human Rights Commission Act in 2010, granting the Commission operational and financial independence, and enhancing its investigative and enforcement powers. Nigeria acceded to several international human rights instruments. The Constitution was amended to grant financial autonomy to the Independent National Electoral Commission (INEC), which contributed significantly in making the 2011 General Elections of Nigeria free, fair and credible. Also, Section 254 of the Constitution was also amended to provide for the establishment of a National Industrial Court.

8. The Delegation stated that the Government has maintained a rights-based approach to economic management that is pro-poor and gender sensitive, which is reflected in the economic transformation blueprint tagged Nigeria's Vision 20:2020.

9. The Delegation stated that the Government was committed to improving access to affordable housing through legal and policy frameworks, which have increased the number of prototype housing units constructed from 25.49% to 151.17% between 2011 and 2012.

10. The Delegation stated that the Federal Justice Sector Reform Coordinating Committee (FJSRCC), was mandated to coordinate the development, management and implementation of policies aimed at inter alia improving the delivery of justice services. Also, an Administration of Criminal Justice Bill was before the National Assembly. The bill is intended to institutionalize the broad objective of the proposed National Prosecution Policy.

11. The Delegation stated that terrorism and violent insurgency have posed existential threats. These threats, which are externally-induced, have manifested in the activities of militant insurgents and organized crime groups committing atrocities, crimes against humanity and violation of the human rights. To address the problem, constitutional measures have been adopted which include the declaration of a state of emergency in the states of Adamawa, Borno and Yobe of the Northeast Nigeria where the insurgents have their base and carry out their attacks. A Joint Task Force (JTF) and a Special Task Force (STF) have been deployed with the required legislative authorization to utilize rights-based "Rules of Engagement" and "Operational Plans" in combating the insurgency. The Government has established a committee on dialogue and reconciliation aimed at providing incentives to dissuade terrorists and other extremists from violence.

12. The delegation stated that significant efforts have been made to implement the accepted recommendations and the efforts made in this regard constituted a substantial part of our national report.

13. In response to advance questions, the Delegation emphasized that torture, as a means of extracting information from suspects, had no place in law enforcement. The police have been retrained and were now relying on, modern and scientific means of interrogations and processes. Police officers found to have committed extrajudicial executions are usually dismissed from service and prosecuted in accordance with the law.

14. The Delegation stated that the demolition of illegal structures in various parts of the country was embarked upon in the public interest. The affected structures were those erected without permission from relevant authorities and was therefore not in conformity with the master plan of those areas. Experts had warned that the continuous existence of those illegal structures posed a danger, not only to the lives of inhabitants of such areas, but also to the ecosystem. The authorities have carried out verification exercises to ensure that those who have genuine claims were either compensated or relocated to other areas and provided with alternative shelter.

15. With regard to what is being done to ensure that the fight against terrorism was in accordance with international standards, the Delegation stated that despite the difficult circumstances that terrorism generates, our law enforcement agencies have been instructed to observe human rights while countering acts of terror. In areas where the state of emergency was in effect, the Joint Task Force and the Special Task Force have been deployed with the required legislative authorization to utilize rights-based "Rules of Engagement" and "Operational Plans".

16. The Delegation stated that the issue of sexual orientation did not enjoy consensus within the United Nations human rights system and all attempts to integrate sexual orientation into existing universally recognized human rights have so far failed. The overwhelming majority of Nigerians objected to same sex relationship based on their deep religious, cultural and moral orientations, against which no government could successfully legislate. There was no policy or practice of witch-hunting people based on their sexual orientation.

17. The Delegation stated that Nigeria was mindful of the need to protect the rights of women and disadvantaged groups such as orphans, widows, the disabled, mentally incapacitated persons, the elderly, and the sick. It is for this reason that CEDAW was signed and ratified. In an effort to entrench Affirmative Action for Women, 13 female Ministers representing 33.3% of the total number of 42 and 4 female Special Advisers out of 18, representing 22% were appointed. Also, the Gender and Equal Opportunities Bill has passed a second reading in the National Assembly. The bill is aimed at incorporating the provisions of CEDAW and the Protocol on the Rights of Women in Africa into domestic law.

18. The Delegation stated that the death penalty still existed in the statutes. Laws could only be changed through negotiation and persuasion and not through government fiat. On the executions carried out in June 2013, due process was followed and the executions were carried out in accordance with the provisions of our laws.

19. The Delegation stated that in addition to the constitutional provisions for the protection of the rights of minorities, the creation of States and the Federal Character principle, which has been used to ensure that people from all parts of the country have a fair and equal chance when it comes to the allocation of public goods, social services and amenities.

20. The Delegation emphasized that the development of the child is at the centre of Nigeria's development priorities. Adequate laws and policies were in place to protect children against all forms of violence.

21. The Delegation stated the National Agency for the Prohibition of Traffic in Persons (NAPTIP) was established with a mandate to combat Human Trafficking occurs within and across Nigeria's borders. A National Policy has also been adopted on the protection and assistance to trafficked persons in line with internationally-accepted standards and best practices.

22. In response to a question on the prevention of election violence, the Delegation, the granting of financial autonomy to the Independent National Electoral Commission enabled it to perform optimally, as well as enhance the electoral processes. Also, the Constitution was specifically amended to set timelines for determination of election petitions. The amendment mandates an election tribunal to deliver its judgment in writing within 180 days of filing an election petition. Similarly, an appeal from the decision of an election tribunal or court shall be determined within 60 days from the date of the delivery of judgment of the tribunal. The outcome of this amendment has been the speedy disposal of election petitions and avoidance of unnecessary distractions to governance often occasioned by delay in disposing election petitions. When the electorate believes in the credibility and fairness of the election process, violence could be prevented.

23. The Delegation stated that while the Government was yet to extend a standing invitation to special procedures, Nigeria has a longstanding cooperation with this vital mechanism of the Human Rights Council. Requests for visit by a number of Special Procedures Mandate Holders have been considered and Nigeria agreed to receive the Special Rapporteur on Independence of Judges and Lawyers, Special Rapporteur on Violence against Women, Representative of the Secretary General on Internally Displaced Persons, the Special Rapporteur on Trafficking in Persons and the Special Rapporteur on the Prevention of Genocide. The requests by the Independent Expert on Minority Issues and the Special Rapporteur on Adequate Housing were being processed. As a matter of principle, Nigeria has never been averse to the visit of special procedures mandate holders to Nigeria and has never rejected any requests to visit.

24. The delegation stated that to enhance treaty reporting obligations, and an Inter-Ministerial National Working Group on Human Rights Treaty Reporting was established in July 2010.

25. The Delegation stated that the was committed to building a society with equal access to justice for all irrespective of means, and where all Constitutional rights were respected, protected and defended. Through the services of the Legal Aid Council, a number of initiatives have been introduced, including The Legal Aid Act of 2011 which has broadened the scope of the mandate of the Legal Aid Council, empowering it to utilize paralegals for service delivery at the grassroots level. The Police Duty Solicitors Scheme is another measure of providing prompt and effective representation to suspects.

26. The Delegation stated that the press was free and that it was this freedom that enables the press to criticize government policies without any consequence. The role of the press in national development was recognized, and in 2012 the Freedom of Information Act was passed.

27. The Delegation stated that given that Nigeria hosted several multinational corporations, and consistent with its obligation as a responsible member of the international community, Nigeria has not only taken measures to protect business enterprises and their personnel, but also ensured that they respect human rights in their operations. Also, Nigeria together with other countries has sponsored the initiative on Human Rights and Transnational Corporations and Other Business Enterprises, which culminated in the adoption of the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

B. Interactive dialogue and responses by the State under review

28. During the interactive dialogue, 94 delegations made statements. Recommendations made during the dialogue are to be found in section II of the present report.

29. Viet Nam commended the human rights infrastructure and specific measures adopted. It noted that challenges remained and encouraged the international community to provide assistance. It made a recommendation.

30. Yemen noted that Nigeria had ratified several international human rights instruments such as the OP-CAT and praised the progress made by the Government. Yemen made recommendations.

31. Algeria noted Nigeria's commitment to human rights, demonstrated by its economic plans, and praised the strengthening of democracy. It urged the international community to support Nigeria with technical assistance. Algeria made recommendations.

32. Angola noted the implementation of recommendations made at the first UPR and commended the establishment of bodies concerning torture and women's economic empowerment. Angola made a recommendation.

33. Argentina commended the ratification of the ICPAPED and the measures taken to promote religious harmony, dialogue between religious leaders and combat discrimination. Argentina made recommendations.

34. Australia praised the strengthening of the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC). It was concerned by executions that had taken place, reports of extra-judicial killings and discrimination against minority groups. Australia made recommendations.

35. Austria commending Nigeria's human rights legislation, noted challenges in the penitentiary system. It noted concerns surrounding the Anti-Same-Sex Marriage Bill, death penalty and female genital mutilation. Austria made recommendations.

36. Azerbaijan praised the human rights measures adopted in Nigeria, including cooperation with special procedures mandate holders, and highlighted that Nigeria's security challenges were caused by external factors. Azerbaijan made recommendations.

37. Bangladesh commended the progress made by Nigeria, particularly in education and health. It recognized efforts to address the HIV/AIDS epidemic. Bangladesh made a recommendation.

38. Belgium praised the strengthening of the NHRC and press freedom, but was concerned by torture in detention centres and failures concerning the Child Rights Act. Belgium made recommendations.

39. Benin noted with satisfaction the rights-based economic development plan, judicial reforms and measures addressing security issues. It urged Nigeria to continue adopting human rights measures. Benin made recommendations.

40. Botswana commended measures, including strengthening of the NHRC, accession to human rights instruments, combating religious intolerance and addressing HIV/AIDS. Challenges remained, such as orphaned children. Botswana made recommendations.

41. Brazil praised the ratification of human rights instruments and the establishment of the Federal Ministry of Women and Social Development. It noted challenges, including female genital mutilation and early marriage. Brazil made recommendations.

42. Bulgaria noted concerns regarding the low-rate of enrolment of young children in schools, geographical disparities in education and Nigeria's failure to extend an invitation to the Special Procedures. Bulgaria made recommendations.

43. Burkina Faso commended several measures, including steps to raise awareness of harmful cultural practices. It urged the international community to support Nigeria. It made a recommendation.

44. Cambodia Cambodia welcomed the strengthening of the NHRC; Nigeria's Vision 20:2020, which promoted human rights; and the accession to several international instruments. Cambodia made recommendations.

45. Canada asked what action would be taken to prevent religious violence. It recognized the difficulties in combating terrorism and welcomed the strengthening of the NHRC. Canada made recommendations.

46. Cape Verde noted that Nigeria had a range of legislative and institutional human rights provisions and encouraged the swift adoption of human rights bills. It made recommendations.

47. Chad commended the collaborative approach taken when drafting the report. It noted that Nigeria was party to several international instruments and had made voluntary commitments. It made a recommendation.

48. China commended Nigeria's Vision 20:2020 economic and social development programme and efforts to eliminate violence against women. It highlighted progress in primary education, health care and protecting children's rights. China made recommendations.

49. Congo commended the amendment of the Constitution to grant financial autonomy to the Independent National Electoral Commission, adoption of judiciary reforms and organization of training seminars to raise security forces' awareness of human rights.

50. Costa Rica noted accession to human rights instruments and the economic policy defined in Vision 20:2020. It encouraged a de facto moratorium and possible abolition of the death penalty. It made recommendations.

51. Côte d'Ivoire commended the constitutional review process to ensure the independence of national institutions. It noted Nigeria's determination to promote good governance and ratification of several human rights instruments. It made recommendations.

52. Cuba noted measures to guarantee the right to a sustainable environmental. It commended efforts to guarantee gender equality and protect children from violence. It made recommendations.

53. Czech Republic welcomed ratification of the OP-CAT but expressed concern over reports on the use of torture. It acknowledged serious security challenges facing Nigeria and made recommendations.

54. Democratic Republic of the Congo The Democratic Republic of Congo highlighted constitutional amendments to strengthen the democratic process, judicial reforms and economic projects in several sectors. It saluted sustainable development initiatives and made recommendations.

55. Djibouti commended Nigeria's active participation in the HRC and welcomed efforts to improve the socioeconomic situation through the Vision 20:2020 programme for peace, stability and well-being. It made recommendations.

56. Ecuador highlighted the strengthening of the National Human Rights Commission, accession to the CRPD and other vital human rights instruments. It made recommendations.

57. Egypt commended the firmly-established culture of respect for human rights, demonstrated by the strengthening of the National Human Rights Commission, and revisions of the 1999 Constitution. It made recommendations.

58. Estonia encouraged further promotion of the rights of freedom of expression, assembly and association. It expressed concern about the lifting of the moratorium on the death penalty. It made recommendations.

59. Ethiopia noted Nigeria's determination to strengthen the democratic system. It commended improved access to housing, judicial reforms and the fight against terrorism. It made a recommendation.

60. Finland acknowledged and encouraged efforts to combat trafficking in human beings. It invited Nigeria to address the needs and rights of children, including stigmatization as witches. It made recommendations.

61. France commended the efforts made by Nigeria since the first UPR review and made recommendations.

62. Gabon encouraged Nigeria to continue its measures to discourage acts of violence and called for support from the Council and the international community. It made a recommendation.

63. Germany remained concerned about torture, extrajudicial killings and other human rights violations by the armed forces. It made recommendations.

64. Ghana acknowledged the need to address security and terrorism challenges and supported Nigeria's request for technical assistance. It commended progress in human rights culture. It made recommendations.

65. Holy See acknowledged efforts to combat violence against Christians and other minority groups. It made recommendations.

66. Hungary appreciated efforts to strengthen democratic processes and the ratification of several international human rights instruments. It raised concerns about reported cases of torture in police custody. It made recommendations.

67. Indonesia commended Nigeria on its Vision 20:2020 initiative. It observed that its promotion and protection of human rights could be even further enhanced. It made recommendations.

68. Iraq welcomed Nigeria's accession to a number of instruments, including the OP-CAT and CCPCG. It made a recommendation.

69. The Delegation stated that Nigeria did not accept recommendations on same-sex marriage because it conflicted with national and cultural values. A poll conducted in 2011 reflected that 92 percent of the people were same-sex marriage.

70. The Delegation stated that religious freedom was guaranteed in the Constitution; The Delegations stated that Instances of extra-judicial killings brought to the attention of the Government have been well addressed.

71. On the issue of early marriages, the Delegation stated that the Child's Rights Act was in place. Efforts were made to sensitise the states about this act to attain its uniform application.

72. The Government was doing a lot to address the over-crowding of prisons, including the amendment of the Legal Aid Counsel Bill, and the introduction of suspended sentences for crimes that were not too serious. The Justice Sector Bill before the National Assembly was meant to address part of the problem.

73. The Delegation stated that robust legislation was passed to eradicate corruption. There was also the Independent Corruption Practices Commission.

74. The Delegation stated that a national agency for the prohibition of trafficking in persons was in place. A bill has passed the second reading and was expected to be passed into law soon. Anti-trafficking laws and policies were human rights based and did not criminalise victims.

75. The Delegation stated that a child labour policy had been adopted which strengthen the response to child labour and ensure effective implementation of the Child Right's Act. The Delegation highlighted the educations schemes in different parts of country, targeting girls, and that harmful criminal practices had been criminalised and practitioners faced criminal charges.

76. Ireland was concerned by reports of widespread torture and ill-treatment in Nigerian police custody, human rights violations by both Boko Haram and security forces, FGM and impunity for domestic and sexual violence. It made recommendations.

77. Italy appreciated Nigeria's efforts to promote and protect human rights, especially those of women and children, while regretting the recent executions in Edo State. It made recommendations.

78. Japan expressed concern about the security and human rights situation in Nigeria, reflected by extrajudicial killings, enforced disappearances and torture. It appreciated the commitment to promoting women's rights, despite the widespread practice of FGM. It made recommendations.

79. Kenya noted legislative and constitutional reforms, mainstreaming of human rights into national planning and accessions to additional human rights instruments and regional instruments. It made a recommendation.

80. Lebanon noted that Nigeria had acceded to a number of international human rights instruments. It made recommendations.

81. Lesotho noted Nigeria's efforts to strengthen its institutional framework, including empowering the courts to apply the human rights provisions of the Constitution and the African Charter on Human and People's Rights. It made recommendations.

82. Libya noted that Nigeria was attempting to implement the recommendations from the first UPR cycle, especially with respect to persons with disabilities, enforced disappearances and the OP-CAT.

83. Malaysia noted that Vision 20:2020 aimed to eradicate poverty, improve access to health care, drinking water, sanitation and affordable housing, build human capacity for sustainable living, promote gender equality and empower women. It made recommendations.

84. The Maldives noted government efforts to strengthen and protect children's rights and to promote female entrepreneurship. It made recommendations.

85. Mauritania valued measures adopted to combat all forms of violence against women and children in line with its international commitments, including, in particular, implementing the provisions of the CAT.

86. Mexico appreciated efforts made by Nigeria, especially the exchange of best practices on dealing with citizens' complaints through the NHRI. It urged Nigeria to take further action to abolish the death penalty. It made recommendations.

87. Montenegro asked whether the de facto moratorium on the death penalty would be reinstated. It appreciated the appointment of a Special Rapporteur on Child Rights in the Nigerian Human Rights Commission and asked what measures would be taken to promote and protect children's rights and prohibit early marriages? It made recommendations.

88. Morocco asked what measures would be taken to improve judicial administration. It congratulated Nigeria on its Vision 20:2020 blueprint and asked what measures were envisaged to integrate human rights into the post-2015 development agenda.

89. Mozambique commended Nigeria on acceding to various human rights instruments, strengthening human rights institutions and for its commitment to ensuring respect for human rights for all. It encouraged Nigeria to pursue implementation of Vision 20:2020.

90. The Netherlands complimented Nigeria on its prohibition of violence against, and trafficking of, women and girls and the practice of FGM including its engagement with traditional and religious leaders on the latter issue. Nevertheless, it observed that FGM remained widespread. It made recommendations.

91. Nicaragua highlighted Nigeria's accession to new international human rights instruments and resulting legislative and institutional reforms. It encouraged it to work towards guiding the country along the path of peace, reconciliation and fraternal dialogue. It made a recommendation.

92. Niger commended Nigeria for strengthening its legal and institutional framework and ratifying several conventions. It observed that Nigeria's Vision 20:2020 represented a framework for promoting fundamental rights. It made recommendations.

93. Norway noted that, while impressive, Nigeria's economic growth had not contributed to poverty reduction. It regretted the prevalence of terrorism, acts of cruelty, widespread impunity and recent executions. Norway made recommendations.

94. Oman acknowledged Nigeria's commitment to improve housing and urban planning and that socioeconomic development was enshrined in the Constitution. It welcomed efforts to raise awareness of human rights. Oman made recommendations.

95. Paraguay welcomed accession to international instruments, improved access to health services, and efforts to empower women. Paraguay offered technical support regarding human rights indicators. Paraguay made recommendations.

96. Philippines commended amendments to the National Human Rights Commission Act, and ratification of several international instruments since the last UPR. It welcomed the prioritization of women's and girls' rights. Philippines made recommendations.

97. Poland expressed concern regarding violence against children, including prostitution and sexual abuse, as well as giving death or life sentences to minors. Poland made recommendations.

98. Portugal, commending ratification of OP-CAT and reiterating its previous recommendation on the use of torture by security forces, remained concerned about such practices. Portugal regretted executions carried out in 2013. Portugal made recommendations.

99. The Republic of Korea highlighted the strengthened independence of the National Human Rights Commission. It welcomed efforts to accede to international conventions, which it hoped would be enshrined in law. It made recommendations.

100. The Republic of Moldova encouraged Nigeria to enact ratified international treaties in domestic legislation and fulfil reporting obligations and use the strengthened institutional framework to prioritize and implement human rights activities. It made recommendations.

101. Russian Federation welcomed the development of legislation and approval by the Federal Executive Council of the National Action Plan for the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights. It made recommendations.

102. Rwanda commended the financial autonomy of the National Electoral Commission and measures taken to improve internal security. Rwanda noted ratification of United Nations instruments, particularly the CPPCG, and establishing laws to protect children from violence. Rwanda made recommendations.

103. Saudi Arabia welcomed Nigeria's accession to various international instruments, including the CPPCG and CRPD. It encouraged Nigeria to continue efforts to improve the human rights situation in its country. It made a recommendation.

104. Senegal acknowledged Nigeria's accession to international instruments and the strengthened National Human Rights Commission. Efforts should continue to address rights of vulnerable people and gender equality. Senegal made recommendations.

105. Serbia welcomed Nigeria's ratification of the OP-CRC-SC and OP-CRC-AC and implementation of ratified instruments. Serbia encouraged development of a sustainable national policy on IDPs. Serbia made a recommendation.

106. Sierra Leone noted that Nigeria had acceded to the CRPD, CPED, CPPCG and OP-CAT-CAT and had ratified several regional human rights instruments including the African Charter on Democracy, Elections and Governance. It made recommendations.

107. Singapore acknowledged Nigeria's strengthened framework for women's rights. It recognized improved access to health care, reduced maternal and child mortality and increased health-related funding. Singapore made recommendations.

109. Slovakia remained concerned about executions, particularly in the case of minors. Access to education should be improved. Slovakia asked about measures envisaged to promote girls' enrolment in schools. Slovakia made recommendations.

110. Slovenia commended ratification of the CRC-AC-OP and CRC-SC-OP, the appointment of a National Special Rapporteur on Children's Rights and the enactment of legislation on children's rights. Slovenia expressed concern about violence against children and women and FGM. Slovenia made recommendations.

111. South Africa noted investment in education to reduce illiteracy and promote qualitative education. It called on the international community to provide technical assistance as requested. It made a recommendation.

112. South Sudan, noting measures to improve internal security, expressed concern regarding current security challenges. It encouraged Nigeria to remain committed to unity in diversity. It made a recommendation.

113. Spain expressed concern about the Anti-Same-Sex Marriage Bill, and asks how Nigeria will guarantee such rights since they are recognized in the Constitution. It made recommendations.

114. State of Palestine The State of Palestine encouraged Nigeria to incorporate the CEDAW into their national law. It urged the Nigerian Human Rights Commission to ensure compliance with the Paris Principles. It made recommendations.

115. Sudan commended Nigeria for its efforts since the first UPR review in 2009 to promote human rights and its accession to international and regional human rights instruments. It made recommendations.

116. Sweden, referring to the execution of four prisoners in Edo State, asked why the de facto moratorium on the death penalty had been broken and whether there were plans to reinstate it. It made recommendations.

117. Switzerland applauded efforts made by the Government since its first UPR. It made recommendations.

118. Thailand commended Nigeria's comprehensive and inclusive approach to dealing with the violent Boko Haram insurgency. It welcomed the initiative to ensure access to quality health care and guarantee a sustainable environment. It made recommendations.

119. Togo commended the priority given to combating violence against women. It made recommendations.

120. Tunisia encouraged the Government to abolish any form of corporal punishment used against children. It urged the international community to respond to Nigeria's request for technical assistance. It made recommendations.

121. Turkey requested an update on the latest situation regarding the declaration of a state of emergency in three north-eastern states owing to the terror activities of Boko Haram and Al Ansaru. It made recommendations.

122. Turkmenistan applauded the Government's accession between 2009 and 2013 to several core human rights instruments and noted measures to improve access to affordable housing. It made recommendations.

123. Uganda noted the rights-based, pro-poor and gender-sensitive approach to economic management in Vision 20:2020. It noted the amendment to the National Human Rights Commission Act and accession to several international human rights instruments. It made a recommendation.

124. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland expressed concern about allegations of torture and extrajudicial killings by elements of the Nigerian security forces and called for investigations into the reports of human rights abuses by those forces. It made recommendations.

125. The United Republic of Tanzania noted positive results achieved in Nigeria's school enrolment programme. It encouraged it to strengthen educational support for vulnerable children and intensify its search for lasting peace in north-eastern regions.

126. The United States of America The United States of America condemned insurgent attacks and was concerned about reports of human rights violations by security forces. Nigeria's statement that LGBT persons were not visible in Nigeria was disappointing. It made recommendations.

127. Uruguay highlighted the alignment of domestic law with international human rights standards, achieved through the ratification of seven core international human rights treaties and the strengthening of the National Human Rights Commission. It made recommendations.

128. Uzbekistan noted that Nigeria had acceded to international instruments protecting children's rights and persons with disabilities and combating torture, genocide and enforced disappearances. It viewed positively its judicial, electoral and gender equality-based reforms. It made recommendations.

129. Venezuela (Bolivarian Republic of) acknowledged efforts to accede to core international human rights instruments, the amendment to the law, which had enabled the National Human Rights Commission to regain its 'A' status. It made recommendations.

130. Sri Lanka Sri Lanka welcomed Nigeria's accession to the ICRMW, the OP-CRC-SC and the OP-CRC-AC. It made recommendations.

131. On the death penalty, the delegation reiterated that the moratorium was the most important issue, but that in a federal system, state governments have a measure of autonomy. However efforts will continue to be made to amend the constitution.

132. The delegation stated that the Government had an effective policy to improve universal access to health. On the environment, measures have been taken within the judicial reform system to address sustainable environment.

133. On invitations to mandate holders, the delegation offered an invitation at any time. On the security situation, the delegation referred to the state of emergency in three states and stated that military personnel exceeding the rules of engagement would be dealt with. The delegation explained that efforts were made to protect the rights of the detained and had given directives to provide access to the Red Cross. On child labour, the delegation specified that Nigeria prohibited the use of child labour. On harmful cultural practises, the delegation stated that some states have passed laws eradicating these practises.

134. On human rights violations by security forces, the delegation stated that the police force was trained on human rights in conjunction with the NHRC.

II. Conclusions and/or recommendations

The recommendations formulated during the interactive dialogue and listed below have been examined by Nigeria.

The following recommendations enjoy the support of Nigeria:

134.1 Sign and ratify the Optional Protocol to the ICESCR and the Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on a communications procedure (Portugal);

134.2 Continue the process of ratifying those human rights instruments to which Nigeria is not yet a State party (Benin);

134.3 Step up its efforts in pursuing the ratification of other relevant international human rights instruments (Philippines);

134.4 Consider ratifying the outstanding human rights instruments and further update domestic laws to be in line with those articles (Lesotho);

134.5 Continue the process of ratifying international human rights instruments that it is not yet a party to (Burkina Faso);

134.6 Consider the ratification of International Labour Organization Convention No. 169 (Mexico);

134.7 Ensure the enactment of the bill on the Convention on Elimination of all forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW) (Brazil);

134.8 Incorporate in national legislation the international human rights legal instruments to which Nigeria has acceded (Burkina Faso);

134.9 Reinforce anti-corruption laws (Cote D'Ivoire);

134.10 Bring its national legislation fully in line with the Rome Statute and to ratify the Agreement on Privileges and Immunities (Estonia);

134.11 Redouble efforts in harmonization of the legal system of the country (Ethiopia);

134.12 Take further measures to implement the 2010 recommendations by the Committee on the Rights of the Child, especially related to the domestication of the CRC ; the right of the child to education, nutrition and health, and protecting girls from early marriage (Finland);

134.13 Adopt legislative and practical measures to combat accusations against children for witchcraft by, inter alia, criminalizing the witchcraft accusations, providing protection to children; and by awareness-raising, including in cooperation with civil society (Finland);

134.14 Ensure international conventions are streamlined in domestic laws (France);

134.15 Incorporate into municipal law various instruments such as the Optional Protocol on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (Ghana);

134.16 Speed up the process of adopting laws that coincide with treaties that Nigeria has recently ratified (Iraq);

134.17 Enact these treaties (international instruments Nigeria ratified) into its domestic legislation (Hungary);

- 134.18 Continue strengthening the legal framework, including by fully implementing the ratified international human rights instruments, including CEDAW and CRPD (Indonesia);
- 134.19 Fully domesticate the human rights instruments which were recently acceded to with the aim of fully and effectively implementing them (Kenya);
- 134.20 Enact national legislation to translate the ratified international treaties into national law (Sierra Leone);
- 134.21 Introduce laws against female genital mutilation in all states, takes steps to ensure access to justice for women who are victims of violence; and that the Violence Against Persons (Prohibition) Bill is passed by the Senate (Ireland);
- 134.22 Continue working to harmonise its normative framework with obligations of international instruments recently adhered to (Nicaragua);
- 134.23 Adopt the necessary legislative and administrative measures to implement those treaties that they have already ratified (Niger);
- 134.24 Accelerate the adoption and full implementation at the federal, state and local levels of the Gender and Equal Opportunities Bill, and the Violence against Persons Prohibition Bill, in compliance with CEDAW provisions (Moldova);
- 134.25 Continue to work to include the norms of the Convention for the Elimination of Discrimination against Women in domestic law (Russian Federation);
- 134.26 Continue to strengthen the regime for the protection of the rights of the child in accordance with the obligations under the Convention on the Rights of the Child (Russian Federation);
- 134.27 Adopt and implement a law that will integrate the provisions of the African Union Convention for the protection and assistance of Displaced Persons in Africa at the national level (Switzerland);
- 134.28 Take appropriate measures to translate its international obligations into its national laws and regulations to ensure their effective implementation (Thailand);
- 134.29 Incorporate the international instruments that Nigeria has ratified in its national legislation (Togo);
- 134.30 Works towards the rapid inclusion within its national legislation of the provisions of recently ratified instruments including the Rome Statue (Tunisia);
- 134.31 Enact effective legislative regulations that will apply the economic transformation blueprint into the daily life of the society (Turkey);
- 134.32 Continue its measures with a view of strengthening the investigative and enforcement powers of the Human Rights Commission (Azerbaijan);
- 134.33 Continue to strengthen its [Nigeria's] human rights institutions and develop further measures to ensure the effective implementation of their mandate (Lesotho).

- 134.34 Ensure operation of the national preventive mechanism, particularly by allowing the National Human Rights Commission unhindered access to all detention facilities (Belgium);
- 134.35 Continue its on-going cooperation with the international human rights system of the United Nations (Azerbaijan);
- 134.36 Further strengthen their cooperation with the treaty bodies of the United Nations (Niger);
- 134.37 Make sure that the periodic reports to the United Nations treaties bodies that are overdue are submitted without further delay (Chad);
- 134.38 Keep its commitment to uphold human rights treaty obligations and engage constructively with human rights mechanisms (Ghana);
- 134.39 Extend a standing invitation to the human rights mechanisms of the United Nations (Costa Rica);
- 134.40 Continue the follow up on the request by a number of Special Procedures Mandate Holders to visit the country (Bulgaria);
- 134.41. Issue standing invitation for the UN human rights special procedures and accept all requested visits by mandate holders (Hungary);
- 134.42 To keep on exerting efforts to protect and promote human rights (Yemen);
- 134.43 Continue efforts already embarked upon to ensure protection and promotion of all human rights (Djibouti);
- 134.44 Implement the 2011 EU Observation Mission recommendations concerning the equal political participation such as to provide assistance to IDPs or to prosecute people involved in election violence (Czech Republic);
- 134.45 Undertake measures, including through human rights education and training, to modify traditional practices that are in conflict with human rights standards which guarantee equality between men and women (Costa Rica);
- 134.46 Step up efforts aimed at eliminating harmful cultural practises, which hamper the full respect for the human rights of women (Paraguay);
- 134.47 The national report makes it clear that harmful traditional practices are deeply rooted in the culture of the Nigerian peoples; we therefore encourage the Nigerian government to intensify its efforts in the field of human rights education to eradicate this problem that only seems to weaken the development prospects in this country (DRC);
- 134.48 Ensure that training of all military and security personnel does include a human rights component and that respect and protection of human rights during service is ensured and monitored (Germany);
- 134.49 Launch campaigns of sensitization for families and communities with the aim of creating areas of protection for the protection of the rights of children with greater efficiency (Mexico);
- 134.50 Continue measure to provide human rights trainings and capacity building to civil servants and law-enforcement officials in line with the world programme for human Rights Education (Moldova);

- 134.51 Further develop the educational sector and the health sector because they are the key sectors in the development process (Saudi Arabia);
- 134.52 Ensure achieving more development in executing cases analysis programs regarding child rights cases and cooperation with the civil society (Sudan);
- 134.53 Promote progress towards the promotion and protection of human rights (Uganda);
- 134.54 Intensify efforts towards strengthening inter-confessional harmony and a culture of human rights in the country (Uzbekistan);
- 134.55 Continue to enhance gender equality and the empowerment of women (Singapore);
- 134.56 Fully implement its national action plan on the UN Security Council resolution 1325 to meaningfully involve women in peace process and to combat gender-based violence and discrimination (Estonia);
- 134.57 Continue its positive approach in improving the socio-economic conditions of women, including intensifying support for women political aspirants through its Women Political Trust Fund (Malaysia);
- 134.58 Intensify efforts to improve the status of women and girls, including enhanced reproductive health measures, the fight against sexual and gender-based violence and harmful traditional practices, the domestication of the CEDAW Convention and to include women in decision making at all levels (Norway);
- 134.59 Continue serious existing efforts to improve socio-economic status of women (Lebanon);
- 134.60 Continue to take vigorous measures including improving relevant laws to further promote gender equality (China);
- 134.61 Further raise public awareness on the equal rights of women, persons with disabilities and religious minorities for social integration and harmony (Cambodia);
- 134.62 Continue its efforts to bring about gender equality and empowerment of women (Algeria);
- 134.63 Intensify efforts in guaranteeing women's rights, including by allocating adequate resources in order to strengthen the implementation of CEDAW convention (Angola);
- 134.64 Step up actions to tackle violence and discrimination against women (Benin);
- 134.65 Continue its positive engagement towards elimination of discrimination against women (Rwanda);
- 134.66 Continue with the efforts aimed at tackling discrimination and religious intolerance (Argentina);
- 134.67 Continue putting in place measures to prevent and eliminate racism as well as religious intolerance and hatred (Botswana);
- 134.68 Take all necessary measures to put an end to extrajudicial killings, investigate all reported cases, and ensure that all suspected perpetrators are brought to justice (Sweden);

- 134.69 Continue the development and implementation of measures aimed at reducing human rights violations by the security forces in particular extra-judicial executions, arbitrary detention and torture, as well as making the mechanisms of tackling impunity more effective (Switzerland);
- 134.70 Investigate all reports of extra judicial killings in an independent and transparent manner and commit to bring to justice members of the security forces found to have been involved in such violations (United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland);
- 134.71 Hold security forces accountable for human rights violations and establish a system for human rights monitoring and to promote accountability for gross violations of human rights (United States of America);
- 134.72 Take all necessary measures to prevent extra judicial executions and torture by security forces by providing targeted training and capacity building to law enforcement officials and military members (Canada);
- 134.73 Criminalize torture and establish an independent monitoring system of detention places (Hungary);
- 134.74 Ensure that future measures addressing torture and ill-treatment of detainees, including rehabilitation of victims and a revision of the mental health law are in full compliance with international standards (Sweden);
- 134.75 Strengthen the human rights training of state security forces and prevent the use of excessive force against civilians (Czech Republic);
- 134.76 Continue its successful and productive measures to counter and eliminate threats of militant insurgents and organized crime groups (Azerbaijan);
- 134.77 Strengthen measures aimed at improving security in the whole country notably in response to the activities of terrorist groups in the country (Cote D'Ivoire);
- 134.78 Intensify efforts against organised crime, including terrorism, and impunity of perpetrators (Norway);
- 134.79 Adopt a comprehensive approach to the security situation which ensures that the perpetrators of violence are brought to justice and that the security forces' rules of engagement take full amount of due process and human rights (Ireland);
- 134.80 Take further steps to restore security with due consideration to the rule of law and human rights (Japan);
- 134.81 You cannot have inclusive development without peace, given the terrorism situation we call upon the Nigerian government to continue with all efforts to deal with domestic insecurity in the country (DRC);
- 134.82 Block acts of violence against religious minorities (Cape Verde);
- 134.83 Intensify its efforts, through legislation and practical measures, to promote and protect the rights of children against all forms of violence (Montenegro);
- 134.84 Take all the necessary measures at federal, state and local levels to prevent and eliminate all harmful practices against children (Slovenia);

- 134.85 Strengthen laws and policies for effective implementation to end violence against children and ensure the full implementation of the 2003 Child Rights Act (Maldives);
- 134.86 Introduce appropriate legal measures prohibiting all forms of violence against children, ensure accountability and end impunity (Poland);
- 134.87 Strengthen efforts to eliminate exploitative child labour (Sri Lanka);
- 134.88 Further implement concrete measures and policies to combat trafficking of children and child labour in the country (Cambodia);
- 134.89 Ensure more effective protection of children and better promotion of their well-being in every dimension, particularly with respect to trafficking and sexual exploitation, excisions, early marriages and forced labour (Cape Verde);
- 134.90 Continue efforts to tackle human trafficking, notably through enhancing awareness-raising initiatives (Senegal);
- 134.91 Continue efforts to effectively prevent human trafficking and reinforce law enforcement and the training of police (Netherlands);
- 134.92 Strengthen protection measures to protect children against violence (Senegal);
- 134.93 Ensure the protection of children's human rights by reducing and eliminating domestic and international child trafficking, sexual abuse, economic exploitation, "baby farming", widespread homelessness, abuse stemming from belief in child witchcraft, and forced conversions (Holy See);
- 134.94 Urgently address child, early and forced marriage by putting in place legislation that clarifies the legal age for marriage, honouring commitments made in the country's last UPR to prevent and eliminate the practice (Canada);
- 134.95 Take measures to prevent the sexual abuse, neglect and trafficking of children, child prostitution and pornography, in line with commitments under the OP-CRC-SC (Moldova);
- 134.96 Continue improving the situation of children, who were at risk, especially girls (State of Palestine);
- 134.97 End domestic and sexual violence against women and girls, by enacting laws and creating awareness in communities to end the social stigmatisation relating to it (Maldives);
- 134.98 Continue to improve its public policies aimed at combating violence against women (Philippines);
- 134.99 Continue to make efforts to curb violence against women, especially with regard to the prohibition of female genital mutilation, at the national level (Republic of Korea);
- 134.100 Continue to work in favour of women's rights, including the fight against early marriages, respecting the rights of widows, and eradicating Female Genital Mutilation and respecting sexual and reproductive rights (France);

- 134.101 Enact a comprehensive national law prohibiting FGM and continue awareness-raising campaigns to eradicate this scourge (Austria);
- 134.102 Legislation for the eradication of FGM as well as to take effective measure to raise awareness of the people (Japan);
- 134.103 Continue efforts to eradicate the practice of female genital mutilation by, for example, taking into account the lessons learned by other countries in the region that deal with this practice (Netherlands);
- 134.104 Continue fighting against gender-related violence, including FGM, by enhancing measures, such as ad hoc awareness-raising campaigns and legal aid programme to increase victims' access to justice (Italy);
- 134.105 Ensure the protection of women's human rights by reducing and eliminating human trafficking, sexual violence and exploitation, domestic violence, maternal mortality, and female genital mutilation (Holy See);
- 134.106 Review conditions in detention facilities, including the behaviour of police officers working in them, and develop options for the improvement of the prison system, including how to tackle the problem of overcrowding (Germany);
- 134.107 Make sure that basic living conditions are met in prisons by providing food, drinking water and medical assistance (Austria);
- 134.108 Strengthen the system of independent monitoring in all detention facilities in accordance with the Optional Protocol to CAT (Czech Republic);
- 134.109 Establish a procedure for providing immediate registration of arrest and detention of people and ensure that their families were systematically informed (France);
- 134.110 Continue to improve prison conditions and the treatment of prisoners in line with human rights standards (Holy See);
- 134.111 Strengthen their efforts to ensure that the treatment of prisoners is in line with international standards (State of Palestine);
- 134.112 Establish a human rights monitoring system, which allows access to detention centres in northern Nigerian, works with affected communities and promotes accountability for serious violations of human rights (United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland);
- 134.113 Facilitate access to justice for all citizens by establishing an effective justice support system (France);
- 134.114 Take steps to ensure that basic human rights principles are respected within all elements in its pluralistic legal system (Sierra Leone);
- 134.115 Take the necessary measures to ensure that the Child Rights Act of 2003 is incorporated in the legal system of the States and applied by all other entities (Belgium);
- 134.116 Continue the justice sector reform without any deviation (Turkey);
- 134.117 Ensure that all detainees suspected of a crime are brought before a court of law as soon as possible (Austria);
- 134.118 Ensure that all detainees who are kept in pre-trial detention are brought before a judge within the deadlines provided by the Constitution of

Nigeria, or in the days following their arrest in accordance with the ICCPR (Belgium);

134.119 Continue with the necessary reforms for the more effective and efficient administration of justice aimed at reducing long periods of pre-trial waiting and minimize corrupt practices (Switzerland);

134.120 Address urgently the issue of impunity by strengthening the rule of law, including through a review of the judicial system (Germany);

134.121 Take effective action to ensure accountability of the armed forces and law enforcement officials (Australia);

134.122 Protect and promote the right of Nigerians to practice their religious faith or beliefs, including by enhancing the dialogue between different faith communities to address inter-religious tensions – particularly those in the Middle Belt States – and to combat all forms of extremism (Canada);

134.123 Intensify efforts aimed at instituting inter-religious dialogue between elders and religious leaders, including in areas not yet affected by religious unrest, and consider holding a national conference on religious tolerance (Sierra Leone);

134.124 Step up its awareness-raising and information activities focussing on religious and customary chiefs to ensure peaceful coexistence between people and religions (Togo);

134.125 Continue to support programs that ensure religious coexistence and working on developing an inter-religious dialogue (Sudan);

134.126 Continue strengthening the role of the Inter-Religious Council in order to deepen the ethical values and fight against the moral corruption so that extreme and radical ideologies are eradicated from the society (South Sudan);

134.127 Continue actions aimed at peaceful coexistence between different ethnic and religious groups in the country (Cote D'Ivoire);

134.128 Continue its efforts in responding to the on-going violence by extremist groups against Christians and other minorities, by working to enforce human rights standards in protecting vulnerable populations, by prosecuting promoters of violence, and by promoting interreligious dialogue (Holy See);

134.129 Continue improving the living standards of its people, including an improvement of access to basic health and education services (Cuba);

134.130 Continue the efforts undertaken by the Government to guarantee inhabitants access to adequate housing and take the legal measures required to ensure the right to land tenure, in conformity with international law and international standards, and thus avoiding forced evictions (Ecuador);

134.131 Strengthen its cooperation with civil society and undertake a review of its involvement in the provision of core social services for children (Egypt);

134.132 Continue its efforts in improving access to affordable housing through proper implementation of its existing legal and policy frameworks including mortgage financing and its Public Private Partnership housing estate schemes (Malaysia);

- 134.133 Continue applying its successful practice to improve access to affordable housing (Turkmenistan);
- 134.134 Continue efforts to improve the standard of living, providing extensive access for the population to a quality system of education and health protection (Uzbekistan);
- 134.135 Improve access to quality healthcare for its people (Singapore);
- 134.136 Continue implementing the Strategic National Plan for the development of health for the period 2010-2015 (Algeria);
- 134.137 Strengthen its capacity to provide care and support for children infected or affected by HIV/AIDS, particularly those orphaned (Bangladesh);
- 134.138 Strengthen policies towards provision of care and support to children infected by HIV/AIDS, particularly those orphaned (Botswana);
- 134.139 Strengthen its policies to provide care and support for children infected or affected by HIV/AIDS, particularly those orphaned (Egypt);
- 134.140 Continue efforts and implement its plans to eradicate polio in Nigeria (Ghana);
- 134.141 Identify and remove administrative, physical and any other barriers that still impede access to birth registration, thus facilitating for everyone the access to health care and education (Italy);
- 134.142 Step up efforts to guarantee free and compulsory birth registration for all children via public awareness-raising campaign on the importance of the registration of births (Uruguay); .
- 134.143 Informs of the measures that will be enforced to support the health system (Lebanon);
- 134.144 Continue to increase education investment and provide better universal primary education (China);
- 134.145 Increase the commendable ongoing efforts aiming at granting full and free access to quality education for all children, inter alia, by boosting annual expenditure on education (Italy);
- 134.146 Adopt effective measures to ensure universal and free access to primary education, without discrimination between girls and boys (Portugal);
- 134.147 Implement the Universal Basic Education policy for all children without discrimination with focus on integration of children with disabilities and equal access for girls in primary and secondary education (Slovakia);
- 134.148 Continue her efforts and measures in investing in education for all as a means to guarantee the gender equality and to foster the human rights culture in the society (Vietnam);
- 134.149 Address gender and regional disparities regarding the right to education (Bulgaria);
- 134.150 Continue to prioritize policies and programmes aimed at ensuring sustainable growth of the education sector (South Africa);
- 134.151 Continue their efforts to enhance respect and fulfillment of the right to education and to ensure access to education for girls and prevent early school dropout (State of Palestine);

- 134.152 Continue efforts in the educational sector and eradication of illiteracy (Sudan);
- 134.153 Continue to promote education and human rights training at the national level (Turkmenistan);
- 134.154 Continue consolidating the educational system in line with the needs of their population, to make progress towards delivering social well-being and encouraged Nigeria to continue on this path with the support and cooperation of the international community (Venezuela (Bolivarian Republic of));
- 134.155 Continue to implement policies and programmes to prevent early school dropout of girls (Sri Lanka);
- 134.156 Adopt a national policy on children with disabilities and ensure access to education and health services for all children with disabilities (Egypt);
- 134.157 Further develop educational services and programmes for the training of persons with disabilities in partnership with relevant institutions (Oman);
- 134.158 Continue with its public policies contained in the report, in the area of the right to health; including drafting policies which would allow for full access to health care services by persons with disabilities (Paraguay);
- 134.159 Adopt a national policy pertaining to children with disability, to take measures to tackle discrimination and to promote gender equality in the field of education and to guarantee a favourable climate for the activities of human rights defenders, journalists and other actors in civil society (Tunisia);
- 134.160 Protect and promote in particular the rights of vulnerable persons, that is: minorities, children, women, older persons, human rights defenders, refugees and prisoners (Djibouti);
- 134.161 Pay particular attention to defending the rights of vulnerable peoples, in particular women and children (Gabon);
- 134.162 Continue the active protection of vulnerable population groups, including children, women, disabled persons and the elderly (Russian Federation);
- 134.163 Consider investing further efforts in developing a foster care system for children without parental care and for children with disabilities (Serbia);
- 134.164 Better protect the rights of ethnic and other minorities, including so called “settlers”, in particular their rights of citizenship and indigenous rights, and to ensure their equal and non-discriminatory treatment in the whole country (Germany);
- 134.165 Adopt measures to eliminate the economic, social and cultural barriers which exist between different ethnic and religious groups with the aim of facilitating coexistence between them (Mexico);
- 134.166 Consider working with Ghana and other likeminded countries to promote the Migrant Workers Convention (Ghana);
- 134.167 Continue to take measures to guarantee the right that its people have to enjoy a sustainable environment (Cuba);

134.168 Monitor the environmental impact of the oil industry on human rights of people in the Niger Delta, taking in the relevant and suitable measures (Maldives);

134.169 Consider strengthening measures to prevent and protect the human rights of local communities from environmental impacts (Thailand);

134.170 Guarantee respect for human rights in the fight against terrorism and ensure that all perpetrators of violations, including extrajudicial executions, are prosecuted (France);

134.171 Mainstream human rights standards in counter-terrorism actions undertaken by security forces (Portugal);

134.172 Continue to strengthen its efforts to prevent human rights violations committed during counter-terrorist operations (Republic of Korea);

135. The following recommendations enjoy the support of Nigeria and which it considers to be already implemented:

135.1 Continue its efforts to progressively realize the right to education, including by exploring the possibility of providing free education for at the primary level (Indonesia);

135.2 Ensure access to education for girls and prevent early school dropout, including by reinforcing the Federal Government of Nigeria Gender Education Project (Egypt);

135.3 Ensure free and compulsory primary education (Bulgaria);

136. The following recommendations will be examined by Nigeria and to which responses will be provided in due time, but no later than the 25th session of the Human Rights Council in March 2014:

136.1 Implement a moratorium on the death penalty, and take steps to accede to the Second Optional Protocol of the ICCPR (Australia);

136.2 Reinstate the moratorium on the death penalty with a view to acceding the Second Optional Protocol to the ICCPR (Germany).

136.3 Fully abolish the death penalty and ratify the Second Optional Protocol to the ICCPR (Estonia).

136.4 Ratify the Second Optional Protocol to the ICCPR aiming at the abolition of the death penalty (Montenegro).

136.5 Ratify the Second Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, aiming at the abolition of the death penalty (Brazil);

136.6 Amend article 12 of the Constitution to facilitate the automatic incorporation in the internal legal system of international conventions it has signed up to in the area of human rights (Spain);

136.7 Amend article 33 of the Constitution and order 237 on the police force to ensure that its interpretation does not allow the lethal use of force by the security forces in circumstances other than those enshrined in international law, and developed in the United Nations basic principles on the use of force and fire arms by officials (Spain);

- 136.8 Continue awareness-raising campaigns to eradicate harmful traditional practices and introduce sex education in the school curricula (Slovakia);
- 136.9 Implement the recommendations of the April 2013 report by the NHRC on the Baga incident (Australia);
- 137.10 Abolish the death penalty (Togo);
- 137.11 Abolish the death penalty (Paraguay);
- 137.12 Consider the abolition of the death penalty (Rwanda);
- 137.13 Consider abolishing the death penalty (Holy See);
- 137.14 Establish an immediate moratorium on executions with a view to abolishing the death penalty (Portugal);
- 137.15 Immediately reinstate the moratorium on the death penalty with a view to abolishing it (Austria);
- 137.16 Reintroduce the moratorium and abolish capital punishment (Norway);
- 137.17 Reinstate the moratorium on the use of death penalty in accordance with the Nigeria's commitment during the Universal Periodic Review in 2009 (Slovenia),
- 137.18 Renew the death penalty moratorium and consider abolishing capital punishment (Czech Republic);
- 137.19 Take the legal measures necessary to establish a moratorium on the use the death penalty (Ecuador);
- 137.20 Immediately reinstates the moratorium on death penalty (Switzerland);
- 137.21 Consider declaring a moratorium on the death penalty (Turkey);
- 137.22 Implement constitutional reform prohibiting the death penalty and in the meantime a moratorium for an indefinite period be adopted in line with international and African trends (Spain);
- 137.23 Immediately introduce a moratorium on executions and abolish the death penalty and ratify the Second Optional Protocol to the ICCPR (France);
- 137.24 Restore officially the moratorium on executions, which had been in place since 2006, throughout the whole country (Italy);
- 137.25 Commute all death penalties, progressively reduce the number of crimes that can be punished with the death penalty and eventually adopt measures for the complete abolition of the death penalty including accession to the Second Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (Uruguay);
- 137.26 Step up efforts to tackle the practice of early and forced marriages (Italy);
- 137.27 Adopt measures to address the high rate of early marriages among girls in the northern states of Nigeria, including a review of legislation permitting marriage of those under 18 years of age and undertaking awareness raising programs on the negative implications of early marriage (Sierra Leone);

137.28 Ensure that neither the death penalty nor the life sentence is imposed for offences committed by persons below 18 years of age (Poland);

137.29 Ensure that neither the death penalty nor the life sentence is imposed for offences committed by persons under the age of 18 (Slovakia);

137.30 Proceed to review of the cases of all persons deprived of their liberty who have been sentenced to death for crimes committed when they were younger than 18, as well as to prohibit the application of the death penalty to persons under the age of 18 in national legislation (Uruguay);

137.31 Amend the trade union act in order to guarantee freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right of collective bargaining (United States of America);

137.32 Put an end to enforced expulsions in the south and ensure that compensation and relocation propositions are actually accorded to the people concerned (France);

137.33 Ensure that children of minority groups have equal access to education and introduce curricula recognizing their right to use and receive education in their own language (Bulgaria);

137.34 Modify the law on oil industries to reflect the opinion of the ECOWAS court, ensuring that the new legislation includes specific protection of the rights of communities affected by the activities of these companies (Spain);

138. The following recommendations did not enjoy the support of Nigeria:

138.1. Amend and review all legislation and policies, including the Same Sex Marriage Bill, with a view to de-criminalize LGBTI persons (Austria);

138.2 Revise laws discriminating against LGBTI persons, including refraining from signing into law any new legislation criminalizing LGBTIs (Czech Republic);

138.3 Establish policies and procedures that protect the human rights and security for all Nigerians including LGBT persons, their families and associates (United States of America);

138.4 Ensure the universality of human rights, safeguarding and protecting human rights of all Nigerians irrespective of gender, age, sexual orientation, gender identity or religious affiliation (Sweden);

138.5 Ensure that no legislation discriminates between men and women, and enact legislation to prevent violence against people based on sexual orientation (Canada);

138.6 Take steps to ensure that the human rights of all citizens are protected, regardless of their religion, sexual orientation or gender identity (Australia);

138.7 Consider the adoption of the necessary measures to eradicate discrimination on the grounds of sexual orientation (Argentina);

138.8 Release all persons imprisoned or detained on the grounds of their sexual orientation or gender identity (Austria);

138.9 Repeal all provisions that give rise to discrimination based on sexual orientation or gender identity (France);

138.10 Adopt measures to combat discrimination against persons on the grounds of their sexual orientation or gender identity, and decriminalise sexual acts between consenting adults of the same sex, in order to bring its legislation in line with the aforementioned covenant (Uruguay);

139. All conclusions and/or recommendations contained in the present report reflect the position of the submitting State(s) and/or the State under review. They should not be construed as endorsed by the Working Group as a whole.

Annex

Composition of the delegation

The delegation of Nigeria was headed by Mr. Mohammed Bello ADOKE, SAN- Attorney General of the Federation and Minister of Justice and composed of the following members:

| | |
|------------------------------|---|
| Dr. Nuruddeen MOHAMMED | - Minister of State for Foreign Affairs |
| Amb. Umunna H. ORJIAKO | - Permanent Representative, Permanent Mission of Nigeria, Geneva |
| Hon. Beni LAR | - Chair, House Committee on Human Rights |
| Hon. M. O. BAMIDELE | - Member, House Committee on Human Rights |
| Hon. M. I. IDRIS | - Member, House Committee on Human Rights |
| Hon. K. A. MAILANTARKI | - Member, House Committee on Human Rights |
| Amb. Mark B. EGBE | - Ministry of Foreign Affairs |
| Mrs. Beatrice Jedy-AGBA | - Executive Secretary of the National Agency for the Prohibition of Traffic in Persons (NAPTIP) |
| Mr. Kayode LARO | - Permanent Mission of Nigeria, Geneva |
| Amb. I. Akabogu-CHINWUBA | - Ministry of Foreign Affairs |
| Prof. Peter AKPER, SAN | - Federal Ministry of Justice |
| Mr. Freeborn OMUEZA | - Ministry of Defence |
| Mrs. Victoria N. UZOIGWE | - Federal Ministry of Justice |
| Mr. R. K. MOSES | - Federal Ministry of Justice |
| Mrs. Helen NWOKO | - Office of the Secretary to the Government of the Federation (OSGF) |
| Dr. I. W. ORAKWE | - Nigeria Prisons Service |
| Mr. Nwidibo Felix EKECHUKWU | - Nigeria Police |
| Mr. Patrick Effiong ENYETING | - Nigeria Police |
| Mrs. Violet OGBULAFOR | - Ministry of Foreign Affairs |
| Mr. Patrick Ali OROKPO | - Ministry of Foreign Affairs |
| Mr. Wilcox IDAMINABO | - Department of State Services (DSS) |

| | |
|----------------------------|--|
| Mr. Umoru Moses IDAKWO | - Department of State Services (DSS) |
| Mr. Nennadubari P. GBENEOL | - The Presidency |
| Mr. Foluso ESAN | - The Presidency |
| Ms. Hauwa Ibrahim KUCHI | - Federal Ministry of Justice |
| Ms. Ola Tochi OJI | - Economic and Financial Crimes Commission (EFCC) |
| Mr. P. C. Y. GBEMUDU | - Permanent Mission of Nigeria, Geneva |
| Mr. Mohammed HAIDARA | - Ministry of Foreign Affairs |
| Mr. Rommy Beerber MOM | - Federal Ministry of Justice |
| Prof. Sylvester SHIKYIL | - University of Jos |
| Mr. Muhammad Lamin SHEHU | - Permanent Mission of Nigeria, Geneva |
| Barr. Blessing OMAKWU | - House of Representatives |
| Mrs. Vivian OZOLUA | - House of Representatives |
