

ADVANCE QUESTIONS TO EQUATORIAL GUINEA (SECOND BATCH)

SLOVENIA

- While noting the adoption of certain measures towards establishment of a temporary moratorium on death penalty, we welcome the recent announcement of the President Nguema about his intention to submit a proposal to abolish death penalty to the Parliament. We would be interested to learn about concrete timeline in this regard. In light of a temporary moratorium, does the Government intend to commute all death sentences to terms of imprisonment as a first step towards the announced abolition of the death penalty?
